In 2002, Tamara completed restoration of an 1830's Greek Revival home which is on the National Register of Historic Places. Extensive and dramatic restoration by a man who grew up next door to the house saved this structure, now the area's largest portrait studio. High Gate Gallery has a huge modern camera room, an elegant parlor, hallways filled with portrait examples, and the charm of comfortable surroundings that puts anyone at ease. We welcome visitors to tour the house during business hours.
